

Starting Up Atlantis Studio

The Atlantis application is found in the “Atlantis Studio 6” folder in Applications on the Mac.

If it is the first time you have run it on your current Mac or if others have been using it you will need to run “Atlantis License Manager” as in the above screenshot. Click the “Reset” Button. This results in the screen below:

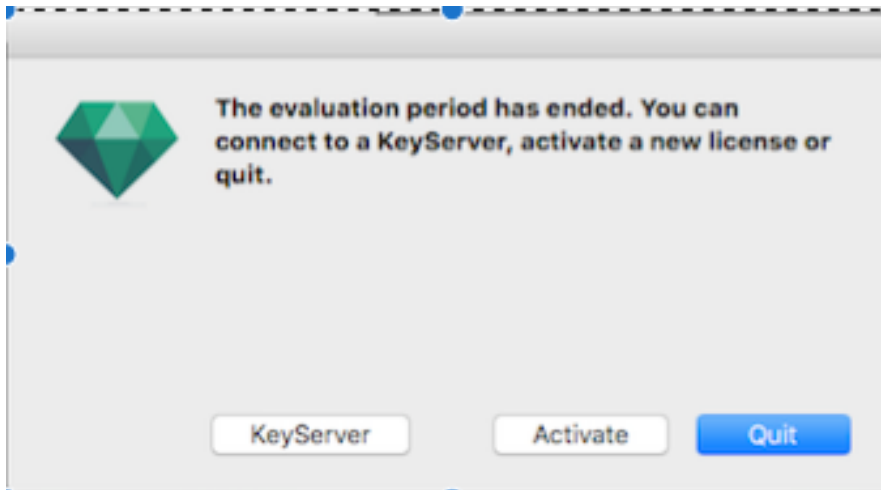

There is no need to click “Activate” and pay no heed to the “Status: Your license has expired” line. Now run “Atlantis Studio”.

Keyserver

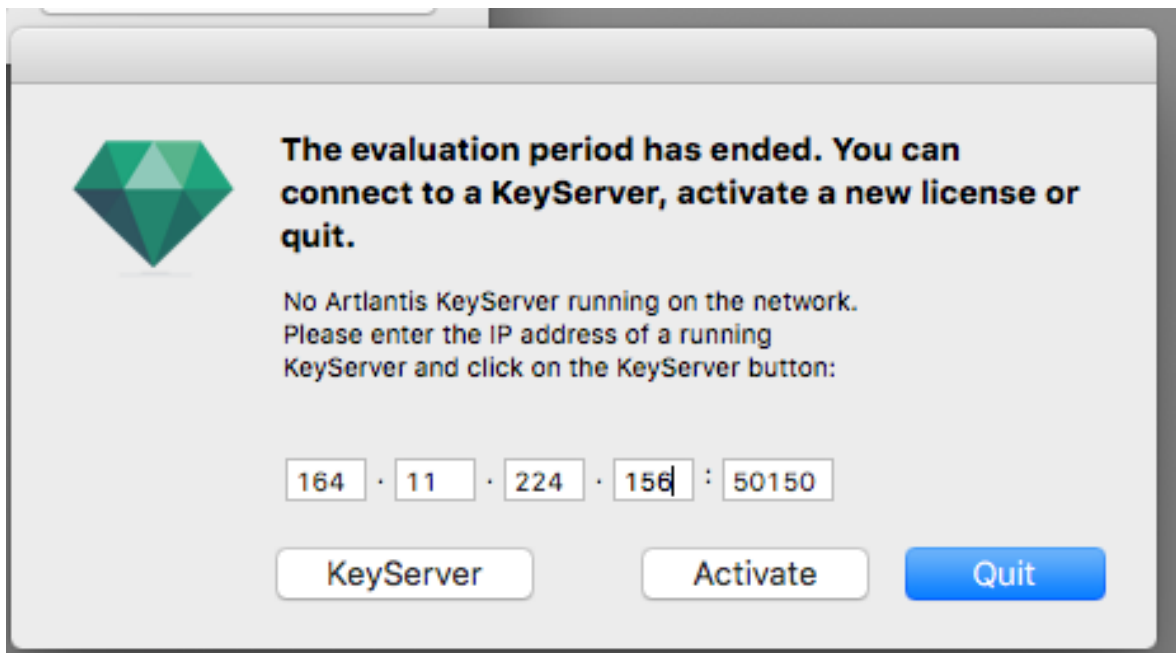

Occasionally the application requires a connection to the key server which gives out the network licenses.

If this happens when starting “Atlantis Studio” then the following dialogue will occur:

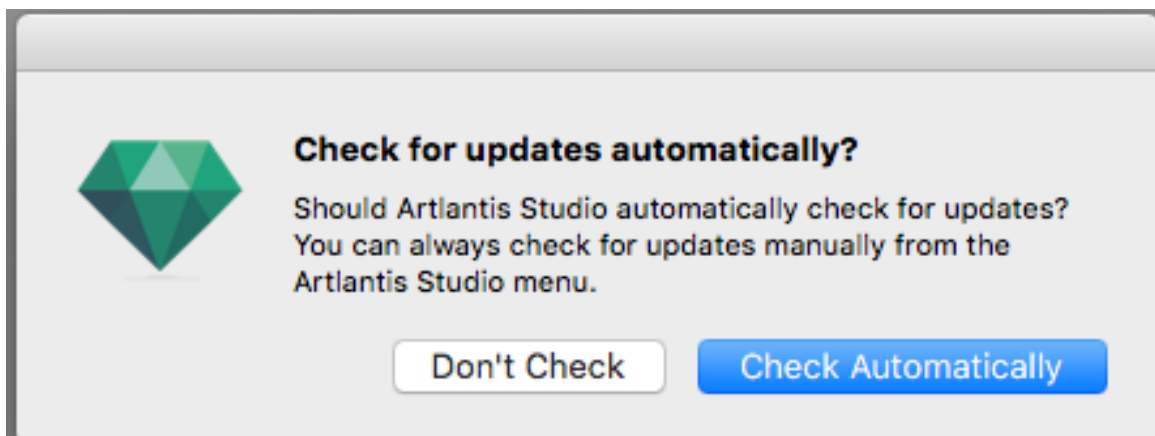

Click the "Keyserver" button.

Enter the following ip address and port number into the KeyServer dialogue box: 164.11.224.156:50150 as in the screenshot below:

Click the "KeyServer" button again.

Click "Don't Check" in the accompanying dialogue box below:

and the software will start.
